

Social and Personal.

MR. AND MRS. MANN S. VALENTINE, JR., have sent out invitations to the debut party of their daughter, Miss Cary Valentine, for the evening of Thursday and Friday, November 11 and 12, at 8 o'clock, at their residence, 218 West Franklin Street. Cards will be played, and the affair is of especial interest, as it is the first debutante party of the season.

Miss Valentine is one of the most attractive young girls to be presented to Richmond society this winter, and a number of entertainments have been planned in her honor.

Major John H. Gifford, United States Army, retired, has issued invitations to the marriage of his daughter, Anne, and Lieutenant James Cunningham, U. S. A., who is stationed at Fort Washington, Md. The wedding, which is to be an event of considerable interest in social and army circles, will occur in the chapel at Fort Monroe on Saturday, November 6, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Following the marriage a reception will be tendered the bride party in the United States Artillery School Building at Fort Monroe. Miss Gifford will have as her maid of honor Miss Elizabeth Klinefelter, of Baltimore, and as the bridesmaids, Misses Mary Kimberly, of New York; Helen Hazeltine, of Chicago; Florence Stewart, of Washington; Mary Fuller, of Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

Lieutenant Geiger, of Fort Monroe, will act as the groom's best man, and the ushers are to be James M. Cunningham, of Gloucester, Mass.; Lieutenant Philip Mathews and Harry K. Rutherford, of Fort Monroe; C. R. Snow, Theodore Chase, of Fort Meyers, and Earl Atkinson, of Washington.

Miss Gifford is a niece of John B. Kimberly, of Old Point, and Harry H. Kimberly, of Hampton. Lieutenant Cunningham is now stationed at Fort Washington, Md.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

BY VIRGINIA WESTOVER

Correspondents are requested to send communications on subjects in which they are interested and regarding which they desire information to the Editor of the Woman's Page.

I want to have a Halloween party. Please tell me what plans I should make about decorating the parlors and the table, and the games that would be suitable to play. What would it be best to have for refreshments? Most of those who will be present are about sixteen years old. E. M. A. G.

Use Jack-o'-lanterns for decorations with autumn leaves in russet shades and yellow chrysanthemums. Provide guests on arrival with a sheet, a Japanese paper mask and a cap. Partners are matched by the same colored paper rosettes pinned to the caps. When all have been paired off, a dance to old-time tunes played on piano, violin and banjo will afford desired diversion. At 10 o'clock serve refreshments—apples, nuts, oranges, sliced gingerbread and cider. Fortunes are told by the hostess giving each guest an English walnut and saying: "Hold above a candle what is found within, careful not to search it—that would be a sin."

When candles are brought in and nuts are examined, within each will be found a folded bit of paper on which has been written a prophecy in invisible ink. The host, as the paper is held above the candle flame, will render the writing visible.

The Model Culture. What can you tell me about the change in hair dressing? Is the present arrangement difficult or complicated? W. M.

Women can manage it without much experimenting. One of the most manageable ways is to turn the hair growing close to the brow by turning it up into a narrow pompadour line. Take the rest of the hair and coil it in flat bands around the head. Finish by coiling a broad bottom braid around the head at the back, from ear to ear. This enables the wearing of new hat shapes with a smart air.

Coiffure Ornament. What novelties are shown in coiffure ornaments for the approaching season? A. M. D.

A coiffure ornament for opera or ball wear is made in a fine lattice design of twisted gold thread—an exact replica of the Venetian fleet of the Renaissance period. Each intersection is decorated with a little mat gold bead, and festoons of the same beads adorn either side.

Persimmon Beer. Will you please publish a good recipe for making persimmon beer? MRS. J. X. B.

Richmond. Get the persimmons after the frost has sweetened and ripened them. To every gallon of crushed persimmons and chopped apples, mixed in the proportion of three quarts of the persimmons and one quart of apples, add one pound of brown sugar, three pints of water, and one pint of cider. Pour the water and cider over the fruit, which should be placed in a vessel that will permit the fluid to percolate through it and drip into a receptacle beneath. The "beer" thus caught should be poured into the fruit several times. The last time it will be clear, strong, sparkling and pleasant to the taste. The vessel holding the persimmons should stand in a dry, cool—but not cold—place during the process of fermentation.

Sandwich Filling. Can you give a good recipe for making chicken sandwich filling? F. B.

Chop cold roast chicken very fine and mix it with one-fourth as much mayonnaise. A few blanched and finely chopped almonds and just enough mayonnaise to make it slightly moist. Equal quantities of chopped chicken and ham make a tasty filling. If boiled chicken is used, add a few finely chopped, pickled cucumbers and moisten slightly with a rich cream sauce.

Tablecloths and Covers. What are the latest and smartest ideas in tablecloths and covers? A. E.

French tablecloths and ten tablecloths are fascinating this season. Made of linen or cotton, they are in Anglaise, broderie designs that alternate with real flat lace squares in two sizes. They are finished by a border of flat or Cluny lace.

Short-Skirted Frocks. Is it true that short-skirted dancing frocks are the newest craze for debutantes? F. Y.

It is true. One of the daintiest models of this kind is of pure white point de esprit, trimmed with tiny pink satin roses and a blue forget-me-not. Another of mauve crepe meter has a tulle of pale green chiffon and is garlanded with Marie Antoinette roses.

Baked Buttermilk. Do you consider buttermilk a good agent in doing away with tan on face and hands? L. J.

Buttermilk is good both for burning and tan. A famous beauty lotion used by belles of the Georgian era was baked buttermilk, heated in the oven in earthenware crocks for several hours, then applied at night.

Floral Effects. What are favorite floral effects in the millinery for the winter? M. C.

Poinsettias, in glowing scarlet tones, with either deep black or golden-yellow centers, are used in sets of two or three. Thick wreaths of half-blown small roses, blue velvet wheat ears, little chrysanthemums in all colors, velvet petunias in natural shades, orchids, lilies and roses are also popular and stylish.

F. V. Barrier Drops Dead. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] FALSBURY, N. C., October 29.—Francis V. Barrier, one of Salisbury's best known citizens, dropped dead in his home here this afternoon. Returning from his work to dinner, he left the dining-room and was later found in a dying condition by members of his family. Death is said to have resulted from heart failure and acute indigestion. He was fifty-six years old and is survived by a widow, one daughter and two brothers.

RETURN SUNDAY WITH PRISONER

Chief Ragland and Detective Heelan, of Petersburg, Expected With Williamson.

HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICES

Woodmen of World Will Unveil Two Monuments in Blandford Cemetery Sunday.

Times-Dispatch Bureau, 14 North Sycamore Street, Petersburg, Va., October 29. Chief of Police Ragland and Detective Heelan are expected to reach Petersburg on Sunday with their prisoner, Julius A. Williamson, who was arrested at Fort Russell, in Wyoming. Williamson is wanted here for a number of indictments for forgery and wife-murder, and also to be tried for bigamy. His young wife, Farnella Kiersey Williamson, to whom he had been married less than a year died quite suddenly on the evening of June 9, declaring repeatedly during her sufferings that she had been poisoned. Investigation proved that she had eaten of bread made from meal in which arsenic had been mixed. Some of this meal was fed to chickens, and they quickly died. The body of the woman was buried in Blandford Cemetery, and several weeks later was disinterred and the organs sent to Dr. Taylor, of Richmond, for chemical examination, and he reported the finding of arsenic in them. A jury of inquest thereupon rendered a verdict that the young woman came to her death by arsenical poison, administered by some person unknown, no circumstances being developed to directly connect her husband with the case. Since, however, the direct charge of murder was made against Williamson, who having left the State, was arrested in Tarboro, N. C., and brought back to jail here. He denied the crime and declared that he knew nothing about it.

Meanwhile the fact was definitely established that Williamson has a young wife in a Texas town, where he had lived for some time, and whom he had married. This fact, however, was not sufficient motive for his desire to get rid of his Petersburg wife. Finding the tolls strengthening about him, Williamson broke from jail and fled from the State.

Chief Ragland finally got trace of him, finding that out in the West, under the name of Shaw, he had enlisted in the United States Army, and was stationed with his company at Fort Russell, in Wyoming. The necessary steps were taken for his surrender, and Captain Ragland and Detective Heelan went for him. Frank Williamson will be taken to prevent another escape.

Monuments to Be Unveiled. Oakwood Camp, Woodmen of the World, will unveil two monuments to dead brothers—Henry Robins and G. W. Perkins—in Blandford Cemetery on Sunday afternoon, and an interesting program has been arranged for the occasion. The Richmond camps are invited and expected to participate in the exercises. The order of the occasion will be: W. H. Fairless, of Portsmouth. The Order of Woodmen erects a monument over the grave of every dead member, appropriating the sum of $100 therefor. Many of these monuments have been erected and unveiled in Blandford Cemetery.

Births and Death Record. The report of the Board of Health for the month ending October 26 shows a total of thirty-six births in the city—whites, sixteen; colored, twenty. The deaths reported for the month numbered forty-six—whites, fourteen; colored, thirty-two. Tuberculosis is reported to have claimed ten victims, of whom eight were colored. Of those who died, twelve were infants under the age of five years, and one had approached nearly to the century mark. Three were non-residents, brought here for treatment, who died in the municipal limits, and six deaths were certified by the coroner.

Attempt to Break Jail. An attempt was made by prisoners in one of the new steel cages to escape from jail last night, but it was discovered and frustrated. It was found that a bar of the cage had been sawed through with a piece of shoe metal. Had the prisoners gotten out of the cage, the steel bars of the windows would still have confronted them, under the name of Shaw, he had enlisted in the United States Army, and was stationed with his company at Fort Russell, in Wyoming.

The necessary steps were taken for his surrender, and Captain Ragland and Detective Heelan went for him.
